Progress at San Francisco

—by—

SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

"The Gentleman from Indiana"

Whatever its faults, the San Francisco Conference has dramatized the world's dream of peace. It is human to want dreams to come true, and so they sometimes do.

But, according to Lt. Col. R. H. Cushing of the U. S. Army War College, in only 2% of recorded time has the world been at peace. He also points out that the 8,600 treaties, of which we have record, have been faithfully observed for an average of two years each.

In 1929, some 59 nations, including Germany, Italy, France, Russia and Japan, signed the Kellogg-Briand peace pact by which they renounced war as an instrument of national policy." We have just witnessed the shocking breach of faith in promising sixteen Polish leaders safe conduct to Russia to negotiate, and then sentencing them to years in prison.

That the Conference itself solved no basic problem is readily conceded by President Truman and others. It did not solve the Polish question, Russia's demands on the Dardanelles, or who will get North Africa or Korea. It reduced none of the demands for bigger armament.

The Conference talked much about preventing war but little about the causes of war. We still believe in the magic of words. Faith in mumbo-jumbo still diverts men from real issues.

The chief cause of modern war is pressure of increasing populations against food and raw materials; for example, the oil in the Middle East. Instead of listening to scientists who seek truth, we listen to politicians who seek votes and always speak with an eye to political rivals back home. If Dr. Louis I. Dublin or Warren S. Thompson of the Scripps Foundation had been invited to address the Conference we would be more hopeful.

Since 1900, the world's population has increased 600 millions, or about four times the total population of the United States. Since 1929 the population of India alone has increased 50 millions.

Miscellaneous Gifts Are Given to Young Woman

A miscellaneous shower of gifts was arranged on Sunday in honor of Miss Mary Wajda, Washington Lane, Bensalem Township.

The affair was planned by Mrs. Jennie Sorshek, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Carl Bennicase, and held at the former's home.

Decorations were in pink and white, with favors in blue and pink. Luncheon was served to 25 guests.

ON LEAVE

PFC William C. Timson and son "Billie," of Cheswold, Del., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Schaefer, Emilie Road, for the past 10 days. Pfc. William C. Timson, U. S. M. C., surprised his wife and family recently when he arrived home for a five-day furlough. Mrs. Elsie E. Timson and Mrs. Margaret P. Buzby are also guests of Mrs. Schaefer. Pfc. William C. Timson, who formerly was employed by Rohm & Haas Co., and resided in Winder Village, is now stationed at Cherry Point, N. C.

ADM. HALSEY SENDS INVITATION TO JAPS' AIR FORCE TO EMERGE FROM HIDING AND SHOW ITS STRENGTH

Halsey's Third Fleet Planes Begin Attacking The Capital Area

HIT INDUSTRIAL SPOTS

Over 2,000 U. S. Planes Press Most Concerted Attack

By Gerard R. Himmelsbach

I. N. S. Pacific Cable Editor

Adm. William F. Halsey, nemesis of the Japs, was having "party" today and sent the enemy a figurative invitation marked "R. S. V. P."

The "invitation" was broadcast by Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz when he told the enemy—and the world—what rich prize ships stood just over the horizon from Tokyo, hurling more than 1,000 carrier planes against airdromes and other vital military installations around the capital.

It was, in effect, an invitation to the Japanese airforce to emerge from hiding and see what it could do against the mighty task force 38 which clearly showed its disdain for enemy land-based airpower.

Nimitz said that Halsey's Third Fleet planes began attacking the capital area of Japan early Tuesday morning (Japanese time), shortly after some 550 huge Superfortresses sowed fires and devastation among five more industrial areas of the Mikado's empire.

All told, some 2,000 American warplanes were pressing the most concerted aerial offensive against Japan which the Pacific war has seen. Okinawa-based heavy and medium bombers and fighters joined with Iwo-based fighters to blast far-flung areas of Japan.

The assault by Task Force 38, commanded by Vice Adm. John S. McCain, caught the Japs by surprise and, though official reports were not immediately available, the raiders appeared to be meeting little opposition. Thus, the Japs did not seem anxious to come forth to accept the invitation—or challenge—presented by some of the U. S. Navy's most formidable warships.

Marking the first time that he has done so Nimitz identified 26 of the warships which Halsey had sent to within approximately 100 miles of Tokyo bay. Usually, the names of marauding vessels remain secret for security reasons until the action has been broken off completely.

Among the ships which would be a ripe plum for any Japs capable of netting them were the U. S. super-battleship Iowa, the dreadnaughts Indiana, Massachusetts and South Dakota; the carriers Lexington, Essex, Independence and San Jacinto, and such cruisers as the Chicago, San Juan, Springfield and Atlanta.

These, though, were only a part

Mrs. Ella F. Flicker Dies at Son's Home

Mrs. Ella F. Flicker, 86 years of age, died this morning at the home of her son, Harry A. Flicker, 2217 Wilson avenue. Mrs. Flicker suffered a stroke Saturday. She had resided in Bristol a number of years and was the wife of the late Harry A. Flicker, and daughter of the late 1st Lt. Richard M. Ball, Philadelphia, who was an officer with the Union Army in the Civil War.

Mrs. Flicker, when six years of age, accompanied her mother to deliver her father's commission to him at Vicksburg, Va., and was struck by a bullet which severed the lobe of her left ear. She claimed to be a direct descendant of George Washington.

The survivors of the deceased are: two sons, Harry A., of Bristol, and Austin, of Philadelphia; two daughters, Mrs. Virginia Chalmers, of Boston, and Mrs. Herbert Unruh, of Philadelphia.

Funeral services will be held at the Flicker residence, 2217 Wilson avenue, Friday afternoon at two o'clock, with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Great Damage Done By Cloudburst at Phillipsburg

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J., July 10—(INS)—Damage estimated at several hundred thousand dollars was caused by a flash flood and cloudburst on the Delaware river last night.

Two houses were washed away from their foundations and police said the four or five occupants of the houses were missing. The new million dollar approach to the steel toll bridge also was damaged.

Sidewalks were ripped up and cellars were flooded. Police reported at least 18 families had to be evacuated from their homes.

The storm broke around 8.30 p. m. last night. It lasted nearly two hours, over-flowing the Delaware. In many cases the water rose to the first floor levels of the houses.

DISLOCATES SHOULDER

Lt. Warner Will Soon Return To Home Here

HEADQUARTERS, 13th AAF, Philippines, July 10—First Lieutenant Wayne K. Warner, of Bristol, Pa., soon will return home from his first tour of overseas duty completed in 11 months.

Lieutenant Warner, navigator of a "Jungle Air Force" Catalina rescue flying boat, was transferred into this unit from the 13th AAF's Troop Carrier Command after he had logged 400 hours. With the rescue group, he has participated in 87 missions in more than 600 hours of over-water operations.

Educated in the Bristol public schools and the University of Pennsylvania, Lt. Warner formerly was employed by the state health department at Harrisburg. He also attended the University of Alabama.

Lieutenant Warner has been presented the Air Medal with five Oak Leaf Clusters and three battle stars on the Asiatic-Pacific theater ribbon. His crew has rescued 29 downed fliers in the Netherlands East Indies battle zone.

BERNARD REEDMAN IS MISSING IN ACTION

Third of 3 Brothers To Be Listed As Casualties In Three Months

IN THE PACIFIC AREA

For the third time in three months Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reedman, Emilie Road, have received telegrams from the war department, informing that one of their sons was listed as a casualty. The third message was to the effect that Bernard Reedman, S 1/c, is missing in action in the Pacific theatre of war. The two previous messages informed that two other sons, Cpl. Herbert C. Reedman and Pvt. Harold Reedman, were wounded in action.

Seaman Bernard Reedman has been in the Pacific area for the past few months. He is the husband of Beatrice Johnson Reedman, of Yardley. The couple have a son, Bernard, Jr., aged two years.

Seaman Reedman took his basic training at Sampson, N. Y. He is 21 years of age.

Wm. H. States, Jr., Buys Farm in Bedminster Twp.

The sale of the 80 acre farm and home of Walter Craig, known as "Craiglan," Bedminster Township, near Dublin, to William H. States, Jr., Bensalem Township, was announced today by J. Carroll Molloy, Jr., and Arlington F. Myers.

The buyer, Mr. States, is president and owner of States Trucking, Bristol, Pa., operating one of the largest fleets of refrigerated trucks in this area. Mr. Craig, who is in the radio advertising business, will leave for California shortly. Mr. States will operate "Craiglan" farm separately from his trucking business.

The property contains three houses, a large dairy barn, and other out-buildings. The farm was once owned by the late John L High.

Zidler, Philadelphia.

NOW IN NEBRASKA

Joseph Ricci, Cherry street, and brother, "Jack" Ricci, Trenton avenue, are spending their vacation in Omaha, Neb. En route home they will spend a few days in Ohio and Pittsburgh.

WORLD POLITICS

A phase of the United Nations program, which has been largely overlooked, is that it will present an entirely new arena for an old activity—international politics.

Study of the details of the Charter's provisions will reveal point after point where political activities will enter.

The coming political stuggles already have modified large phases of the plan itself.

For instance, as the United Nations scheme was first visualized, it followed closely the Wilsonian concept (founded somewhat on the plan of the United States) of a Federation or League of independent and politically equal nations.

This idea receives some expression in the Charter. But early in the game it was recognized that the nations would vote as blocs, not individually. Stalin started subdividing the U. S. S. R. with the obvious purpose of having many votes instead of one. England demanded votes for all her dominions, and began rebuilding the so-called "Sterling bloc."

France, realizing that the developing plan would give her only one vote in fifty or more, allied herself with Russia, thereby upsetting the expected balance in Europe.

America hurried into the "good neighbor" league with Latin-America, making us boss of a third bloc of votes.

There had to be a quick back-down from the Crimean declaration that such spheres of influence were "out," and the Charter itself fully recognizes the spheres in every way except by name.

When it comes to actual deliberations and tactics, the set-up of the General Assembly is as loose and undefined as the weakest of representative bodies which ever fell into the hands of factional bosses.

There is no limit to the business which can be brought before the assembly—no limit, in other words, to the extent to which the Assembly can be kept so busy with unimportant matters that important ones get shoved aside and lost.

Even so simple a matter as that of the selection of non-permanent members of the Security Council is put in such vague language that delegates could argue for weeks whether the terms are being met, and if not, what anyone was going to do about it.

In this selection, the Charter provides, due regard is to be "specifically paid, in the first instance to the contribution of members of the United Nations to the maintenance of international peace and security and to the other purposes of the Organization, and also to equitable geographic distribution."

This sounds good, but no suggestions are made how to see that it is done, or what is to happen if the provision is disregarded.

All it really boils down to is an invitation to a political squabble in which the group with the most votes can find some plausible reason for doing what it is determined to do—not what ought to be done.

Despite the Democratic Party's own bad experience with the two-thirds rule, and despite the current condemnation by New Dealers of its use in certain Senatorial matters, the Charter provides, not for a simple majority vote, but for a two-thirds majority on "important questions."

Likewise, the Security Council, for positive action, needs an affirmative vote of seven out of the total of eleven, with interested nations disbarred from voting.

Lt. Ernest Orazi Weds At Camp Wheeler

Lt. Ernest Orazi, Cedar street, took as his bride on June 21st, Miss Mae Finale, of Union City, N. J. The wedding took place in the Chapel on the post at Camp Wheeler, Georgia. Chaplain Amick officiated at the ceremony, which was strictly military. Lt. Orazi is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Orazi, of Cedar street.

The bride was given in marriage by Colonel Nauert. The bride's gown was of white satin with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and long sleeves ending in a V-point over the hands. The skirt was full ending with a train. She wore a fingertip veil with a crown of orange blossoms. She wore a floral bracelet of stephanotis.

Miss Frances Finale, sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor. Her gown was ashes of roses with black-plum accessories and she carried a bouquet of roses.

Lt. Leo F. Olsen of Philadelphia served as best man to the groom.

The reception was held at the officers' lounge.

Mrs. Orazi will remain with her husband at present, he being stationed in Macon, Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Orazi, the groom's parents, attended the wedding.

RESIDENTS WANT SPEEDING STOPPED AND MORE LIGHT

Petition Presented by Residents of 2nd, 3rd and 4th Avenues

COMPLAIN OF CANAL

Stream Not Kept Clean and Water Very Low, Says Councilman Roche

Three complaints to annually come before Borough Council at this time of year—excessive speeding of motorists, overgrowth of weeds and condition of the canal—were voiced last night when the borough legislative body met in session.

Four residents, representing the residents on Second, Third and Fourth avenues, attended council and their spokesman, Thomas Egan, presented a petition. The petition asked council to take action at once to curb the speeding of motorists on the three avenues and to provide more light on the three highways.

The requests were referred to Street and Highway Committee and to the Police Committee.

Councilman Dennis Roche complained of speeding of motorists on Beaver street and called to the attention of council the condition of the canal which the State had promised to keep clean.

Councilman Rathke said that two pumps are operating taking water from the canal to irrigate the King Farms. Borough Solicitor, State Senator Howard I. James, was at the meeting, and informed council that he would take the condition of the canal up at once with the proper state authorities.

Councilman Roche complained of the weeds on the old Buckley street mill property.

Mr. Egan in addressing council, after being given the privilege of the floor on motion of Councilman

WHAT OUR BOYS ARE DOING TO WIN THE WAR

WITH THE 42D RAINBOW DIVISION OF THE THIRD ARMY IN GERMANY, July 10—Pfc. Harry J. Seebold, 24, of 444 Pond street, Bristol, Pa., a member of the 222d Infantry Regiment of the famed 42d Rainbow Division has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge in recognition of his exemplary performance of duty in ground combat against the enemy.

Pfc. Seebold, the husband of Mrs. Helen Seebold, 444 Pond street, Bristol, Pa., participated in the Rainbow's 450-mile smash from the Hardt Mountains of France through the very heart of Southern Germany to the Austrian border. In this drive the division captured the historic Nazi cities of Wurzburg, Schweinfurt and Furth—which is the western third of the city of Nurnberg — and captured the center portion of the city of Munich.

Pfc. Seebold entered the service in May 1944 and took his basic at Camp Sibert, Ala. In April 1945 he joined the 42d (Rainbow) Division. Before entering the service he worked as a chemical operator for the Rohm & Haas Co.

Early in January the Rainbow Division, of which Pfc. Seebold is a member, aided in repulsing the last frantic efforts of the German army to smash back into France through Alsace in bitter fighting north of Strasbourg, at Hatten and Rittershoffen and along the Moder River in the vicinity of Hagenau. In March it began its drive into Germany, which was halted only by the unconditional surrender of the Nazi army. In this offensive the Rainbow fought its way through the Hardt Mountains, breached the Siegfried Line in 26 hours, made six crossings of the winding Main River, forced crossings over both the Danube and Lech rivers in 24 hours, captured the center of Munich and liberated 32,000 persons at the infamous concentration camp of Dachau.

HURLS 1000 PLANES AT TOKYO

With Admiral Halsey's Fleet Off Tokyo—Admiral William F. "Bull" Halsey handed the Jap home-folk a painful surprise today. He sent his speedy U. S. Third Fleet into Honshu's shadow and began hurling 1,000 carrier-based warplanes at Tokyo. Airdromes and other targets in the Jap capital area were blasted in a bewildering series of attacks.

It was the first carrier assault on the enemy homeland since V. Adm. Marc Mitscher broke off a series of brilliant blows which began February 16-17.

Today, air strikes were under the direction of Vice Adm. John S McCain with his Task Force 38. The weather, notoriously bad for flying in the Tokyo area, was on the Americans' side for a change.

Under cover of night Admiral Halsey's mighty fleet sped silently to a point within short range of Honshu's east coast and the first planes leaving the carriers found clearing skies. The Japs were caught completely by surprise.

NEW NAVY PLANE DOES 425 M. P. H.

Corsair Fighter-Bomber Is Capable of Terrific Speed and Climbing Ability

NOW IN PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON, July 10—A new and improved Corsair fighter-bomber, capable of terrific speed, climbing ability and offensive punch, is in action and has proved its mettle against the Japanese, the Navy revealed today.

The Navy's fastest plane, it can travel 425 miles an hour and more, carry 2,000 pounds of bombs or rockets if desired, and can climb nearly 1,000 feet a minute faster than its predecessors.

The first Japanese pilot to get a glimpse of the new plane never got home to tell about it. He was shot down in two minutes flat by Lieut. Douglas M. West, Excelsior, Minn.

Battle of Japan to be Decided by Planes

London—Today's biggest raids are the beginning of the Allied invasion of the Japanese mainland, a Tokyo press report quoted by the Japanese Domei agency said.

"The outcome of the battle for Japan will be decided by planes," the report added. "The destruction of the Allies' air umbrella and the consequent prevention of his landing are part of this decisive battle."

The Domei agency estimated that the United States naval force off onshu included ten aircraft carriers. The Nippon Sangyo Keizai, leading Tokyo commercial daily, declared in an editorial that the intensified air assaults actually denoted the "first step of aggression against the Jap mainland.

WILLOW RUN

The last of the B-24 Liberator Bombers has rolled off the assembly line at Willow Run. The footsteps of the few remaining workers echo along the vast distances of the almost empty plant where so many of the big planes that have been pounding the nation's enemies were produced. Whether a peacetime industry is to spring up inside these walls has not been decided, but Willow Run's role in this war is finished.

It is still possible to argue the merits of the idea that lay behind this plant—the conception that the same assembly line methods employed in the building of American automobiles could be adapted to the manufacture of planes. That Willow Run made a tremendous contribution to the war is, of course, beyond dispute. Altogether 8,685 Liberators came off this assembly line, 462 in the peak month of March, 1944. Once production began to roll, bombers were turned out with amazing speed.

But the system had its defects, too, and perhaps the best illustration of this is the fact that the plant is closing down while great numbers of planes still are needed for the Pacific War. Its chief flaw was its inflexibility. Once the line was set up it was difficult to make major changes in the planes and virtually impossible to produce another type of bomber without starting all over again from scratch.

The answer seems to be that what is best for aircraft production is a modified version of the assembly line. Some compromise is necessary between the need for speed and that for making frequent changes in design. But, in any case, Willow Run was a great and successful experiment. It produced bombers when they were needed, and it provided experience in how to produce quantities of big planes in a hurry.

COLORED COTTON

Russia is producing cotton in six different colors. Its fields are yielding nature-dyed fiber, the colors being yellow, brown, green, blue, pink and smoke, in addition to white. Last year 500 tons of the colored crop was produced, a figure which will be exceeded this year.

Commenting upon the nature-dyed cotton, Women's Wear, an American trade publication, hails the arrival of colored cotton as a blessing. It says technical tests of newly-developed raw colored cottons show that, in addition to saving the cost of dyeing they also produce longer fiber and improved quality yarn. The natural color tends to deepen rather than fade under the action of soap.

Truman says the meat situation will improve in July, without citing his authority. Is this the opening gun in the 1946 Congressional campaign?

Some months have passed since a court ruled that a pedestrian has the right-of-way over a truck, but a Southern judge has just decided that a man is head of the house.

Inside Your Congress

The world's population has doubled sincee 1850 and will probably increase by 550 million people in the next 50 years. Since 1850 the population of Europe increased from 266 to 550 million. Until that date Japan's population had remained stationary for centuries, held down by her high death rate. Moreover, the industrialization of civilization has enormously increased the per capita demand on the world's resources, copper, lead, iron, coal, cotton, petroleum, lumber, etc., etc. So population figures alone don't tell the whole story.

In the face of these tremendous facts, we put ink on paper, wave flags, drum up hate, and listen to words like those of Henry Wallace who says that "Satan now is trying to lead the common man back into slavery and darkness."

This problem will not yield to incantations or even improving the standard of living of the rest of the world by draining America dry of her blood and treasure. For example, if modern medicine, sanitation, etc., cut down India's death rate to that prevailing in the United States but left her birth rate as it is, India could populate five worlds (not one world) as large as this planet in a single century. China could do the same, and Russia and Japan would not be far behind.

Canada and the United States have had more peace and less talk about it than any countries of Europe or Asia. The chief reason is that there has been a livable relationship between the populations of Canada and the United States and their respective supplies of food and other natural resources.

To those who want to do something more about the war than wave flags, or nurse hates, I recommend such books as "Hunger and History," by E. Parmalee Prentice; "Population Roads to Peace or War," by Burch and Pendell; and "A Time is Born," by Garet Garrett.

Commends Maj. Solla For Work In Jewish Group

The Congregation of Avath Achim is in receipt of the following letter:

182nd U. S. General Hospital
APO 640-A, U. S. Army
27, June, 1945

Hebrew Congregation,
Bristol, Penna.

Gentlemen:

I should like to take this opportunity to write a word of worthy commendation on a member of your community, Major Andrew G. Solla. I had the good fortune of meeting Chaplain Solla in February, 1944, at which time we were both assigned to the 182nd General Hospital, which was staging for overseas duty. After a short while the chaplain impressed me, as he did many thinking individuals of our organization, as a sincere, wholesome, and cultured man, imbued with the high principles that entitled him to serve with the chaplain corps. On our voyage to England, Major Solla, as senior chaplain, arranged for and conducted Jewish services aboard ship for members of our religion. This gesture of good faith certainly brought forth the admiration of all Jewish personnel.

While stationed with our hospital near Derby for almost one year he continually stimulated interest for Jews, both patients and hospital personnel, to attend services in the local community, and made very frequent trips with the group on Friday nights and prayed together with the men in the synagogue. As you can understand Major Solla took over the local responsibilities of a Jewish chaplain since no such chaplain was assigned to our post. Since Major Solla's attitude and conduct has been so exemplary of a truly fine person and member of the chaplains corps, I wish to transmit my feelings to you on behalf of the other Jewish officers and enlisted personnel of our organization.

Sincerely yours,
BERNHARDT J. STATMAN,
Major, MC.

Smoother and better

Small boys and swimmin' holes just naturally go together on hot summer days . . . and so do small boys and big, cool glasses of Supplee Sealtest Homogenized Vitamin D Milk. This smoother, better milk is a grand pick-me-up after a hard day at play. It tastes wonderfully rich because every single drop has its quota of cream, and it's extra nourishing because every single drop has an equal wealth of the precious nutriments that make milk our most nearly perfect food. Get Sealtest Homogenized Vitamin D Milk from your Supplee milk man or woman, or your neighborhood storekeeper.

BADENHAUSEN GOES INTO LEAGUE LEAD BY VICTORY

Boilermakers Beat R. & H. By the Score of 8 to 5

LOSERS BEST HITTERS

Losers Were Failures When Men Were On The Bags

The Badenhausen team took undisputed possession of first place in the Bristol Suburban League last evening by scoring an 8-5 win over the Rohm and Haas aggregation on Leedom's field.

The chemical mixers outhit the Cornwells boys but the Badies provided their blows in the pinches while the Castormen were failures with men on the bags, having nine runners stranded.

Even in the last frame, the chemical mixers had an opportunity to start a rally when Meyer and Hauser hit safely but neither Ritter, nor Trapp could produce a safe blow.

Paul Dean was the winning moundsman with the loss going to Paul Cervellero. Walt Hauser had two doubles and a single to lead the losers with the stick while Jack Hansen led Badenhausen with a double and a pair of singles. Johnny Hemp, Badenhausen manager, went back into the line-up and connected for two singles in three official trips to the plate.

ARROWS CLAIM GAME; RIVALS NOT ON HAND

The Eastern Aircraft team failed to put in an appearance on Leedom's field last evening so Manager John Mulholland, of the Fleetwings Arrows, claimed the game on forfeit. The Aircrafters had booked an exhibition game on Dunn field, Trenton.

Two official league umpires were present at starting time last evening so Mulholland lined up his starting players, had the pitcher toss in a few balls. The umpire-in-chief announced the forfeit.

This evening, Voltz-Texaco will meet the Prison Officers at Trenton while tomorrow evening, American Steel meets Voltz-Texaco on Leedom's field while the Arrows go to Trenton to play the Prison Officers.

SUBURBAN LEAGUE LEAD MAY END IN DEADLOCK

There is a possibility that the Bristol Suburban League may end in a triple deadlock for first place as the first half race closes tonight with Diamond meeting Badenhausen at Cornwells Heights and Schutte-Koerting meeting Rohm & Haas on the Maple Beach field.

Badenhausen is in first place with eight wins and three losses. Diamond and Rohm and Haas are tied for second place with seven wins and four losses. If Diamond beats Badenhausen this evening and Rohm and Haas conquers Schutte-Koerting, then there will be a three-way tie for first place and a playoff will be necessary.

However, should Badenhausen win over Diamond, then the boilermakers will be the first half champions, regardless of the outcome of the other scheduled game.

"Linny" Woolvin will hurl for Diamond with Minster or Cooney throwing them in for the Badenhausen team.

Residents Want Speeding Stopped and More Light

Foster, said that the residents of Second, Third and Fourth avenues asked for better lighting, the curbing of the speeding of motorists and the assignment of police to protect the area.

Secretary William J. Lefferts read a letter from the State asking for the mileage of streets within the borough and a map of the same so that the borough could be given its allotment of state funds for highway improvement. The request was referred to the borough engineer.

The contract with John Lesnevic for the collection of ashes was approved and also the collector's bond. The proper officers of the borough were authorized to affix their signatures.

Charles G. Rathke was chosen to act as president pro tem in the absence of Dr. J. Fred Wagner, the president.

Other councilmen absent were Wichser, Warner, Vandegrift, Myers, Mitchener, Mulligan, Clarke and Passanante.

Adm. Halsey Invites Japs To Emerge From Hiding

of the task force which International News Service War Correspondent Julian Hartt described as "the mightiest sea-air striking force ever assembled."

Almost 550 Superforts made their longest strike at Japan as part of the five-pronged assault which rained 3,500 tons of fire bombs and high explosives on the Utsube Oil Refinery and four other cities of Honshu. Elements of the B-29 armada made a round-trip of 3,960 miles to hit Sendai, 190 miles north of Tokyo. "Excellent results" were achieved in this area, while fires also were started at Sakai, Gifu and Wakayama. Utsube was thought to be wrecked.

One Superfortress was lost in this assault, but the entire crew was rescued. One of the airmen said that Jap defenses were "certainly weakening." He also told of seeing flames 50 miles after leaving the target area.

Another airman said that the "whole Jap coast was on fire when we left."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's airmen again raided the Formosa area, concentrating mainly on three airdromes on the northern end of the island. They also left Moto Island—off the southeast coast—a "mass of smoke and flame," MacArthur said.

Highlighting the ground action was a double-phased amphibious thrust by troops at Balikpapan, on eastern Borneo. MacArthur revealed that Netherlands East Indies forces have gone into action there, making two landings at the northern end of Balikpapan Bay against ineffective opposition.

Harvey Wolfe and family are vacationing in Maryland and Virginia.

Mrs. Anna Minchin is spending some time at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Conrad.

SAGOLLA ALLOWS ONLY ONE HIT AND WINS GAME

Diamond Team Wins Easily From Schutte-Koerting Nine

FINAL SCORE IS 5 TO 1

Losers Made Their Only Run as Result of A Walk

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, July 10—With Joe Sagolla allowing the opposing team but one hit, the Diamond team won easily over the Schutte-Koerting nine last evening on the Echo Beach field. Final score was 5-1.

The Schutte-Koerting boys showed a big improvement in their playing but lacked the ability to solve the slants of Sagolla. Their only run was the result of a walk, a fielder's choice, and an error by Bachman. In the second inning, Kennedy, the Schutte-Koerting hurler, singled to left field for their only safe blow of the game.

The Diamond team had difficulty in getting safe blows as Kennedy held them to six safe blows, two of which went to Mickey Mandio. The Diamond boys iced the game in the fourth by scoring three times. Two of the tallies were driven in by Sagolla.

ALLIES WITHDRAW FROM NYAUNGKASHE

Advanced Headquarters, Burma—A withdrawal by Allied troops from Nyaungkashe, in the Sittang river bend in Burma, 25 miles east-northeast of Pegu, as a result of Japanese counter-assault was announced today.

A southeast Asia command communique reported that the Allied forces including casualties, dropped back from the area in the face of strong enemy attacks, part of a Jap break-out attempt.

Meanwhile, other Allied troops occupied Heho in the northern Japanese escape route in the Thazi-Taung-Gyi road area 85 miles south of Mandalay.

The Japanese Domei agency reported today that reinforced Japanese troops had opened a new offensive in the Toungoo area of eastern Burma. The Toungoo road was the principal enemy escape route until the past week's large-scale attempt to cross the Sittang river.

WORLD POLITICS

This means that in many matters four votes on the Security Council can block a majority.

These provisions offer not only endless play for such dilatory strategy as filibusters and the like, but make log-rolling and other political maneuvers inevitable when it comes to getting such lop-sided majorities into line.

Still more dangerous, the machinery as it is set up paves the way for some future minority bloc to seize full control of the General Assembly and thereby master the world.

Acceptance of the Charter opens a new outlook for the future — one filled with many uncertainties, dangers and un-mapped paths.

Late Paratrooper's Map Reaches Here

map discovered that it belonged to a late fellow-townsman. Printed in red ink on the map was the name "J. S. Moffo, Jr."

"That belongs to a fellow from my town. Why not give it to me to send home?" he queried, and the map was promptly presented to him.

Straccio immediately sent the map to his mother who resides on Lincoln avenue. The Straccio family, noting that it was a map of the North African section and recalling that they had already received one like it, did not examine it closely. A day or two later one member of the household looked it over and was surprised to see Moffo's name thereon. The map was sent at once to the late Cpl. Moffo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moffo, who reside at 203 Wood street.

The map is clearly printed on fine white silk, measuring about 1x2 feet. It includes Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Italian Libya, Spain and Rio De Oro. Just how the first group came into possession of the map has not yet been learned here.

Cpl. Moffo holder of the Silver Star Medal for gallantry, and also of the Purple Heart Medal, was officially declared dead over a year ago. He had been missing in action since January 30, 1944.

New Navy Plane Does 425 M. P. H.

U. S. Marine Corps, off the Japanese island of Amami. Incidentally, it was the first Japanese plane that Lieut. West ever saw.

The new plane, the Chance Vought F4U-4, already has left the assembly lines by the hundreds.

The F4U-4 is a composite, improved model of all the earlier Corsairs. Its four-bladed propeller, driven by a 2100-horsepower Pratt & Whitney radial engine, measures 13 feet, two inches from tip to tip and "chews holes in the sky" in flight, the Navy said.

It has improved maneuverability, lands easily and carries six .50-caliber machine guns in its wings. Its radio equipment has "push-button" receiving and transmitting sets which enable the pilot to change frequencies in combat.

The major change in the new plane is the incorporation of the Pratt & Whitney double Wasp 2800-C engine in the design. The new power plant gives the already speedy Corsair considerably more horsepower both for normal flying and in combat emergencies, the Navy announcement said, and its rated 2100 horsepower can be substantially increased by water injection.

Bristolians Serve On LST To Norway

S. 1/c, USNR, son of Gabreail Diemidio, Washington street, Bristol.

D'Emidio was an assembler and riveter at Fleetwings, Inc., Bristol, before he entered the Navy in April, 1943. Diemidio, a veteran of the Normandy invasion, was employed by the Supreme Motor Freight Co., before he entered the Navy in June, 1943. He wears the Bronze Star Medal.

The ship left Le Havre on May 30th, joining the convoy carrying an army regiment to Oslo to assist the Allied Norway Force Commander in establishing control there. There was smooth sailing, despite the ever present danger from floating mines still infesting North Sea waters and the Oslo fjord.

For the LSTs, the Oslo trip was the longest single run they had made, although their war jobs had included carrying troops and vehicles to beaches in the Italy, Sicily, North Africa and Normandy invasions, and numerous re-supply runs until V-E day.

Next stop for the amphibious ships here is the United States. There will be shore leave for crewmen, repairs for the ships and possible action in the Pacific.

ABOARD AN AIRCRAFT CARRIER IN THE PACIFIC, July 10—Two Bristol, Pa., Navy men are back at the business of fighting "Japs" after a recent three-hour rest period on one of the Navy's "recreation islands" in this war zone.

The "recreation islands" have been set up on tiny atolls to give Navy men a few hours to relax between battles.

The crewmen of this carrier visited the island in small parties, and had a chance to put their feet on solid ground for a few hours. They were taken on a tour of abandoned, thatched native huts, where a small tribe of islanders made their homes before the war. They also were given an opportunity to hunt along the beach for oddly-shaped coral and sea shells washed up by the tide.

Recreation and refreshments included cans of beer and soft drinks, a ball game, horseshoe-pitching, boxing, swimming and sun bathing. The sailors also had a chance to mingle with crewmen of other ships in the area, swapping sea stories and talking about mutual acquaintances and relatives.

The Bristol men are: Stephen Jadlocki, Jr., F. 1/c, of Bristol RD 1; and Bernard Pickard, A. M. M. 3/c, Buckley street, Bristol.

ABOARD A BATTLESHIP BOMBARDING YONABARU, Okinawa (Delayed)—As a small Naval bombardment force hammered at the remaining Japanese troops in a southern pocket of this island, Lt. Comdr. David C. S. Kline, 26, USN, of Bristol, Pa., rounded out his fifth invasion.

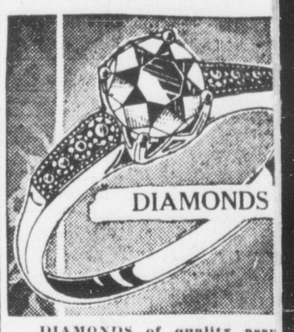

He came aboard this battlewagon shortly after graduating from the Naval Academy in 1941, and since then has sailed more than 130,000 miles, engaging the enemy in waters off three continents—Europe, Africa, and Asia.

Son of Mrs. Charles L. Lathero, Lemoyne, Pa., he has been serving as navigator of this ship. He has chalked up 49 months of continuous sea duty. Lt. Comdr. Kline, whose wife lives in Bristol, was assigned the navigator's duties just before the Iwo Jima engagements.

U. S. NAVAL AIR STATION, Jacksonville, Fla., July 10—Lester S. Appleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. G. Appleton, Tullytown, Pa., recently graduated from the Automatic Pilot school here.

Entering the Navy January 1942, he received his recruit training at Newport, R. I., later being transferred to the Naval Air Technical Training Center here.

Appleton is now qualified to handle all work in connection with the maintenance and repair of automatic pilot, intricate instruments which are relieving pilots much of the strain in air combat and patrol.
